GENERAL INFORMATION

What is this document?

This document is the Proxy Statement of CBRL Group, Inc. being sent in connection with our Annual Meeting of Shareholders to be held on Tuesday, November 25, 2003. A form of proxy card accompanies this document.

We have tried to make this document simple and easy to understand. The Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) encourages companies to use “plain English” and we will always try to communicate with you clearly and effectively. We will refer to your company throughout as “we” or “us” or “CBRL.”

Why am I receiving a proxy statement?

We are sending this Proxy Statement and the form of proxy card to you to solicit your proxy to vote upon certain matters at the annual meeting.

Who is paying the costs of the proxy statement and the solicitation of my proxy?

CBRL will pay all expenses of this solicitation, including the cost of preparing and mailing this Proxy Statement, and all costs of any proxy solicitor employed by us.

Who is soliciting my proxy and will anyone be compensated to solicit my proxy?

Your proxy is being solicited by and on behalf of our Board of Directors. In addition to solicitation by use of the mails, proxies may be solicited by our officers and employees in person or by telephone, facsimile or other means of communication. Our officers and employees will not be additionally compensated, but may be reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses in connection with any solicitation. We also may reimburse custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for their expenses in sending proxies and proxy material to beneficial owners.

We retain Corporate Communications, Inc., 523 Third Avenue South, Nashville, Tennessee to assist in the management of our investor relations and other shareholder communications issues. Corporate Communications, Inc. receives a fee of approximately $2,000 per month, plus reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. As part of its duties, Corporate Communications, Inc. assists us in the general solicitation of proxies.

We may also employ a professional proxy solicitation service and we will pay all costs of that solicitor.

We will employ SunTrust-Atlanta to receive and tabulate the proxies, and independent inspectors of election will certify the results.

What is CBRL Group, Inc.?

We are the parent of the following wholly-owned subsidiaries: Cracker Barrel Old Country Store, Inc. and Logan’s Roadhouse, Inc. Each of these companies is a Tennessee corporation. We also own a number of related operating companies through Cracker Barrel Old Country Store, Inc. and Logan’s Roadhouse, Inc.

Where is CBRL Group, Inc. located?

Our corporate headquarters are located at 106 Castle Heights Avenue North, Lebanon, Tennessee 37087. We conduct our business from there and from offices located at 305 Hartmann Drive, Lebanon, Tennessee 37087. Our telephone number is 615.444.5533.

Where is CBRL Group, Inc. common stock traded?

VOTING MATTERS

What am I voting on?

You will be voting on the following:

- the election of 11 directors;
- the approval of the appointment of our independent auditors, Deloitte & Touche LLP; and
- any other matter properly brought before the annual meeting.

Who is entitled to vote?

You may vote if you owned shares of CBRL common stock at the close of business on September 26, 2003. Each share of stock is entitled to one vote. As of September 26, 2003, there were 48,001,226 shares of CBRL common stock outstanding.

How do I vote?

In addition to voting in person at the meeting, you may vote:

- by completing, signing and returning the enclosed proxy card in the postage-paid envelope;
- for shares held in a broker’s name, over the Internet at the address shown in the information provided with your broker’s vote instruction form (if you have access to the Internet, we encourage you to vote in this manner); or
- for shares held in a broker’s name, by telephone through the number shown in the information provided with your broker’s vote instruction form.

The availability of telephone and Internet voting depends on the voting processes of your broker. Neither telephone nor Internet voting is available to you if you hold shares directly in your name. Please follow the directions on your proxy card or vote instruction form carefully.

In order to assist us in tabulating votes at the annual meeting, we encourage you to vote by proxy even if you plan to be present at the annual meeting.

How will my proxy be voted?

The individuals named on the proxy card will vote your proxy in the manner you indicate on the proxy card. If your proxy card is signed but does not contain specific instructions, your proxy will be voted: “FOR” all of the nominees for director and “FOR” the appointment of Deloitte and Touche as our independent auditors.

Can I change my mind and revoke my proxy?

Yes. To revoke a proxy given pursuant to this solicitation, you must:

- sign another proxy with a later date and return it to our Corporate Secretary at CBRL Group, Inc., P.O. Box 787, Lebanon, Tennessee 37088-0787 at or before the annual meeting;
- provide our Corporate Secretary with a written notice of revocation dated later than the date of the proxy at or before the annual meeting; or
- attend the annual meeting and vote in person. Note that attendance at the annual meeting will not revoke a proxy if you do not actually vote at the annual meeting.

What if I receive more than one proxy card?

The receipt of multiple proxy cards means that you have more than one account with brokers or our transfer agent. Please vote all of your shares. We also recommend that you contact your broker and our transfer agent to consolidate as many accounts as possible under the same name and address. Our transfer agent is SunTrust Bank-Atlanta, which may be contacted at 1.800.568.3476.

How will abstentions and broker non-votes be treated?

Abstentions and broker non-votes will be treated as shares that are present and entitled to vote for purposes of determining whether a quorum is present, but will not be counted as votes cast either in favor of or against a particular proposal.

What are broker non-votes?

If you are the beneficial owner of shares held in “street name” by a broker, your broker is the record holder of the shares; however, the broker is required to vote those shares in accordance with your instructions. If you do not give instructions to your broker, your broker may vote the shares with respect to “discretionary” items, (i.e., routine matters such as uncontested elections of directors and the appointment of auditors), but the broker may not vote your shares with respect to “non-discretionary” items, such as incentive compensation plans that authorize grants of stock and stock options that exceed 5% of the class outstanding, and shareholder proposals. In the case of non-discretionary items, shares for which the owner has not given voting instructions will be treated as “broker non-votes.” To avoid giving them the effect of negative votes, broker non-votes are disregarded for the purpose of determining the total number of votes cast or entitled to vote with respect to a proposal.

How many votes must be present to hold the annual meeting?

A quorum must be present at the annual meeting for any business to be conducted. A quorum exists if the holders of a majority of the 48,001,226 shares of CBRL common stock outstanding on September 26, 2003 are present at the meeting, in person or by proxy.

How many votes are needed to elect directors and approve other matters?

Directors are elected by a plurality of the votes cast by the holders of shares entitled to vote at the annual meeting. This means that the director nominee with the most affirmative votes for a particular slot is elected for that slot. You may vote in favor of all nominees, withhold your vote as to all nominees or withhold your vote as to specific nominees.

Except for the election of directors, each proposal submitted to the shareholders at the annual meeting will be approved if the votes cast for the proposal exceed the votes cast against it.

Will my vote be confidential?

Yes. We will continue our practice of keeping the votes of all shareholders confidential. Shareholder votes will not be disclosed to our directors, officers, employees or agents, except:

- to allow the independent inspectors of election to certify the results;
- as necessary to meet applicable legal requirements and to assert or defend claims for or against us;
- in the case of a contested proxy solicitation; or
- when a shareholder makes a written comment on the proxy card or otherwise communicates the vote to management.

CERTAIN TRANSACTIONS

Except as disclosed under “Executive Compensation,” and except as set forth below, our executive officers, directors and director nominees did not have significant business relationships with us which would require disclosure under applicable SEC regulations and no other transactions which need to be disclosed are anticipated during the 2004 fiscal year.

Through a subsidiary, we lease a restaurant property in Macon, Georgia from a limited partnership controlled by B. F. “Jack” Lowery, one of our directors. The annual rent is the greater of (i) 12% of the total initial cost of the land, buildings and improvements, or (ii) 5% of the total restaurant sales plus 3% of the gift shop sales. The lease, which was originally entered into in 1981, expires on June 1, 2011 with one 10-year option remaining. During the 2003 fiscal year, our subsidiary paid a total of $190,223 in lease payments to the limited partnership. In addition, LoJac Enterprises, Inc., a company controlled by Mr. Lowery, formally bid upon and was awarded a contract to perform $48,525 of construction services to Logan’s Roadhouse, Inc. at a potential restaurant site.

We and our subsidiaries also use the services of Fleishman-Hillard, Inc., an international public relations firm, in connection with our product and service marketing efforts, as well as with general CBRL public relations activities. Martha M. Mitchell, a director, is a Senior Partner in that firm. During the past fiscal year, we, or our subsidiaries, paid $227,852.88 to Fleishman-Hillard, Inc. for its consulting services, including corporate media consulting and response and concept marketing, plus reimbursement of direct expenses.

We negotiated each of these transactions on an arms-length basis and each of these transactions have been reviewed and approved by the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors. We believe that these transactions are fair and reasonable and that their terms are no less favorable than could be obtained from unaffiliated persons.

Although not required to be disclosed by SEC regulations, we also note that we use the services of Corporate Communications, Inc., a financial public relations firm in Nashville, Tennessee, of which Charles E. Jones, Jr., a director, is president and the major shareholder. During the past fiscal year, we paid $24,000 to Corporate Communications, Inc. for services, plus reimbursement of direct expenses including distribution of our annual report, proxy materials, and financial press releases.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS AND COMMITTEES

What is the structure of the Board of Directors?

Pursuant to our Bylaws, our Board of Directors must consist of at least five directors, but the exact number is set by the Board from time to time. The Board of Directors has fixed the size of the Board at eleven at the present time. All current directors are standing for re-election. All directors are elected annually by our shareholders.

How are directors compensated?

Each outside director is paid an annual retainer of $30,000 plus a director's fee of $1,000 for each Board and committee meeting attended. The chairperson of each committee, other than the Audit Committee, is paid an additional annual retainer of $3,500, while the chairperson of the Audit Committee is paid an additional annual retainer of $5,000. We reimburse all non-employee directors for out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with attendance at meetings. Directors who also are employees of CBRL are not paid director's fees or a retainer.

Directors are also offered the option to participate in our Deferred Compensation Plan. The Deferred Compensation Plan allows a participant to defer a percentage or sum of his or her compensation and earn interest on that deferred compensation at a rate equal to the 10-year Treasury bill rate (as in effect at the beginning of each calendar quarter) plus 1.5%.

Pursuant to our 2002 Omnibus Incentive Compensation Plan (the "Plan"), on the date of each annual shareholders meeting, each non-employee director who is elected at that annual meeting of shareholders will receive an option to purchase 5,000 shares of CBRL common stock at fair market value pursuant to the plan, 1/3 of which will vest and become exercisable each year beginning on the first anniversary date of the option grant date. These options expire on the 10th anniversary of the date of the grant.

Also pursuant to the Plan, each non-employee director who is elected or appointed to our Board between annual meetings of our shareholders and prior to the July 31 immediately preceding the first annual meeting of shareholders following the election or appointment will receive an option to purchase 5,000 shares of CBRL common stock at fair market value pursuant to the plan, 1/3 of which will vest and become exercisable each year beginning on the first anniversary date of the option grant date. These options will expire on the 10th anniversary of the date of the grant.

Mr. Evins, our Chairman of the Board, and Mr. Woodhouse, our President and Chief Executive Officer, are compensated pursuant to their employment agreements and certain benefit plans described below under "Executive Compensation."

How often did the Board of Directors meet in fiscal year 2003?

Our Board of Directors met seven times during fiscal year 2003. Each director attended at least 75% of the combined total of all meetings of the Board and all meetings of the committee(s) on which he or she served.

(1) Certain long-term incentive cash awards were granted, in tandem with certain stock options, to the named executive officers. These awards are designed to result in a long-term commitment to CBRL, and therefore, these awards cliff vest at the end of fiscal year 2004, 5 years after the grant (subject to earlier 4 year vesting upon accomplishment of specified performance goals). These cash awards may not be greater than the originally specified amounts, but they could be reduced if the share price of our common stock declines. The following cash amounts were accrued for each officer during fiscal year 2003: Mr. Woodhouse, $219,000; Mr. Evins, $400,400; Mr. Turner, $162,000; Mr. White, $115,312 and Mr. Gilbert, $98,894. The Compensation and Stock Option Committee determined, at the conclusion of the Company's annual audit for fiscal 2003, that the Company's specified performance goals had been achieved for Mr. Woodhouse, Mr. Evins and Mr. White. Includes premiums paid on Life and Disability insurance for coverage above that available to all salaried employees generally of $21,796 for Mr. Woodhouse, $39,333 for Mr. Evins, $14,385 for Mr. Turner, $4,855 for Mr. White and $4,494 for Mr. Gilbert; and CBRL's contributions to its 401(k) Employee Savings Plan and any non-qualified deferred compensation plan for each named executive officer in fiscal 2003.

- (1) The exercise price of the options granted equals the closing market price during normal trading hours of our common stock on the day prior to the grant date. The options generally vest and become exercisable at a cumulative rate of 33-1/3% per year. All remaining options also vest upon a defined change in control of CBRL.
- (2) The potential realizable values illustrate values that might be realized upon exercise immediately prior to the expiration of the option term using 5% and 10% appreciation rates from the price at the grant date (which is equal to the exercise price), as required by the SEC, compounded annually. These values do not, and are not intended to, forecast possible future appreciation, if any, of CBRL's stock price. Also, these values do not take into consideration any provisions for vesting over a period of years or termination of options following termination of employment.

(1) These plans consist of our 1987 Stock Option Plan, as amended; Amended and Restated Stock Option Plan, as amended; 1989 Stock Option Plan for Non-Employee Directors, as amended; and 2002 Omnibus Incentive Compensation Plan.

(2) This plan category consists of our 2000 Non-Executive Stock Option Plan and grants of 52,000 shares of restricted stock to Michael A. Woodhouse.

The Company's 2000 Non-Executive Stock Option Plan was adopted without the approval of our shareholders, as described below. In addition, the Company granted restricted shares outside of any of our plans to Michael A. Woodhouse, as described below.

Material features of the 2000 Non-Executive Stock Option Plan (the "Stock Option Plan")

General. The Stock Option Plan provides for the grant of stock options. As of September 24, 2003, we have outstanding stock options under the Stock Option Plan for future exercise of 3,048,850 shares of our common stock. An aggregate of 650,308 shares of CBRL common stock is reserved for future issuance under the Stock Option Plan. The aggregate number of shares of common stock which may be granted under the Stock Option Plan cannot exceed 4,750,000 shares (subject to adjustment in the event of certain stock splits, stock dividends, share combinations or recapitalizations).

Eligibility. The persons eligible to participate in the Stock Option Plan as recipients of options are employees of the Company or any of its subsidiaries who are not officers or directors of the Company. In addition, any person who is a participant in the CBRL Group Long Term Incentive Plan is not eligible to participate in or receive options under the Stock Option Plan.

Option Price; Payment. The option price per share is the fair market value of the Company's common stock. From time to time the Compensation and Stock Option Committee selects, from among those who are eligible, the individuals to whom options are granted and determines the number of options to be granted. The date of the grant is determined by the date on which the option recommendation is approved, or selection of an employee as a participant in any grant under the Stock Option Plan is made, by the Compensation and Stock Option Committee.

Shares purchased by exercising an option must be paid in full by delivery to the Company of consideration equal to the product of each option price and the number of shares purchased, plus applicable taxes. The consideration must be paid in cash or by check. The option price may also be paid, at the discretion of the Board, by delivery of other shares of our common stock, subject to applicable holding periods, or any other consideration the Compensation and Stock Option Committee permits.

Term. Each option specifies the rate at which the option vests or becomes exercisable, which is in the discretion of the Compensation and Stock Option Committee. Each option expires at the end of a specified period, which shall not exceed 10 years. The option may expire earlier or even terminate if employment is terminated. The Stock Option Plan terminates on July 29, 2005 unless extended by the Board.

Material features of the restricted stock grants for Mr. Woodhouse

We have granted Mr. Woodhouse 48,000 shares of CBRL common stock, 1/3 of which shares would vest on each of August 3, 2002, August 2, 2003 and July 31, 2004, subject to earlier vesting or forfeiture. As a result of the operation of the long term incentive plan, all of these restricted shares have vested. In addition, we have granted Mr. Woodhouse 20,000 shares of CBRL common stock, of which all shares vest on July 27, 2005.

Do any named executive officers have employment agreements?

Yes. We have an employment agreement with each of Dan W. Evins and Michael A. Woodhouse.

What are the terms of Mr. Evins' employment agreement?

Mr. Evins' employment agreement provides for the payment of an annual salary in the amount of $500,000, which amount shall not be decreased, and which may be increased from time to time. The agreement also provides for target bonus potential of 100% of Mr. Evins' base salary, but that bonus can be as high as 225% or as low as 0% depending on Company performance relative to the annual business plan. In the event CBRL terminates Mr. Evins' employment without "cause" (as defined in the agreement), the agreement entitles him to a severance payment equal to the unpaid amount due during the employment term prior to the termination, plus approximately three times his annual salary in effect on the date of termination, as well as a lump sum cash distribution determined by a formula based on his unvested stock options which otherwise would have vested during the original term. The agreement specifies that Mr. Evins' participation in CBRL's life, medical and disability insurance programs will continue if his employment is terminated by CBRL without "cause" until he is either employed elsewhere and is permitted to be covered by that employer's benefit plans, CBRL no longer provides those benefit plans to its management employees, or the expiration of the term of the agreement. The agreement also describes rights to compensation if Mr. Evins' employment is terminated or suspended due to death, disability or "cause." This agreement generally does not preclude Mr. Evins from participating in any other CBRL benefit plan or arrangement. The agreement contains an agreement by Mr. Evins not to compete with CBRL during the term of the agreement, and for a period of one year following the date of termination of employment by Mr. Evins or by CBRL for "cause."

What are the terms of Mr. Woodhouse's employment agreement?

Mr. Woodhouse's employment agreement provides for the payment of an annual salary in the initial amount of $600,000, which amount shall not be decreased, and which may be increased from time to time. The agreement also provides for target bonus potential of 150% of Mr. Woodhouse's base salary, but that bonus can be as high as 337.5% or as low as 0% depending on Company performance relative to the annual business plan. In addition, the agreement provides for the grant of 48,000 shares of CBRL restricted stock, the terms of which are described above. In the event CBRL terminates Mr. Woodhouse's employment without "cause" (as defined in the agreement), the agreement entitles him to a severance payment equal to the unpaid amount due during the employment term prior to the termination, plus three times his annual salary in effect on the date of termination, as well as a lump sum cash distribution determined by a formula based on his unvested stock options which otherwise would have vested during the current term. The agreement specifies that Mr. Woodhouse's participation in CBRL's life, medical and disability insurance programs will continue if his employment is terminated by CBRL without "cause" until he is either employed elsewhere and is permitted to be covered by that employer's benefit plans, CBRL no longer provides those benefit plans to its management employees, or the expiration of the term of the agreement. The agreement also describes rights to compensation if Mr. Woodhouse's employment is terminated or suspended due to death, disability or "cause." This agreement generally does not preclude Mr. Woodhouse from participating in any other CBRL benefit plan or arrangement. The agreement contains an agreement by Mr. Woodhouse not to compete with CBRL during the term of the agreement, and, if Mr. Woodhouse accepts his severance payment, for a period of one year following the date of termination of employment by CBRL without "cause."

Does CBRL have any other agreements with its named executive officers?

Yes. On September 30, 1999, our Board of Directors approved a plan responding to change in control issues. The plan is based on recommendations from an independent, outside compensation consultant and is designed to encourage retention of key employees. Generally, our senior officers, including the named executive officers, and other key personnel have been provided agreements stating that upon a "change in control," they will receive specified salary payments and other benefits.

What are the material terms of the change in control agreements?

The change in control agreements provide that the named executive officers will receive specified benefits if after a "change in control" there is: (1) a material change in duties or responsibilities resulting in the assignment of duties and responsibilities inferior to the duties and responsibilities in effect at the time of change in control, (2) a reduction in salary or a material change in benefits (excluding discretionary bonuses), or (3) a change in the location of work assignments from the location at the time of change in control to any other location that is further than 50 miles away from the location at the time of change in control. The salary payments will equal 2.00 or 2.99 times the average salary and bonus for the 3 years prior to a change in control (including, when required, a gross-up payment to cover excise taxes), and benefits will include continuation of and payments for health benefits for a 2-year period. The agreements define "change in control" to include certain circumstances in which a person becomes the beneficial owner of securities representing 20% or more of the combined voting power of our voting stock, a majority of our Board changes within a 2-year period, or we merge, consolidate or reorganize.

Has the Board adopted a code of ethics for senior financial officers?

The Board of Directors has adopted a code of ethics for its senior financial officers, as defined by SEC guidelines, that applies to CBRL's chief executive officer, chief financial officer, and chief accounting officer. This code of ethics is posted on CBRL's Internet website, www.cbrlgroup.com. Any amendments to, or a waiver from, a provision of this code of ethics will be posted on CBRL's Internet website.

COMPENSATION AND STOCK OPTION COMMITTEE REPORT

What is the Compensation and Stock Option Committee and what does it do?

The Compensation and Stock Option Committee of the Board of Directors administers our compensation policies for our executive officers and other senior management personnel. The committee recommends to the Board the salaries and bonus plan for our executive officers, and it administers the stock option plans pursuant to which all employee stock options are granted.

Are the members of the committee "independent"?

Three of the four committee members are independent as determined in accordance with Rule 4200(a)(14) of the National Association of Securities Dealers listing standards. In addition, pursuant to the Corporate Governance Guidelines adopted by the Board on September 25, 2003, all of the members of this committee will be required to satisfy these independence criteria no later than the Board of Directors' meeting immediately following the 2003 Annual Meeting.

What are the components of executive compensation?

Our compensation program for executive officers consists of three key elements: base salary, annual performance bonus and longer-term incentives such as stock options. Base salaries are targeted to be competitive at the 60th percentile and total compensation generally is targeted to be competitive at the 75th percentile of the market for positions of similar responsibilities as determined by an independent outside compensation consultant. We consider it necessary and appropriate to position compensation packages at these levels to attract, retain and motivate executives and other key management personnel with the essential qualifications for managing our operations and growth.

Base Salary. In setting the fiscal 2003 base salary for each executive officer, the committee reviewed the then-current salary for each of the officers in relation to average salaries within the industry for comparable areas of responsibility as presented in a report prepared for the committee by independent executive compensation consultants. The committee also considered the contribution made by each executive officer during fiscal 2002, as reported by the Chief Executive Officer, and it considered salary recommendations made by the Chief Executive Officer, based on information prepared by management, for the executive officers other than the Chief Executive Officer. Except for recommendations from management, the committee employed procedures similar to those used for each of the other executive officers to determine the fiscal 2003 salary for the Chief Executive Officer.

Bonus. This committee continues the policy that the financial performance of CBRL should be a significant factor in rewarding our executive officers. In July of each year, this committee reviews the expected financial performance of CBRL for the concluding fiscal year and considers the internal budget established for the next fiscal year in setting certain financial goals and specific objective criteria for executive officer bonuses.

Generally, bonus awards are calculated based on the following factors: (1) CBRL or operating unit annual financial results compared to the CBRL or operating unit business plan, (2) the individual's performance measured by CBRL or operating unit annual financial results compared to its business plan, (3) the individual's fiscal year base salary amount, and (4) the individual's target bonus percentage. In fiscal 2003, maximum bonus percentages available to executive officers ranged from 225.0% to 367.5% of base salary (337.5% for Mr. Woodhouse, 225.0% for Mr. Evins, 367.5% for Mr. Turner, 225.0% for Mr. White and 262.5% for Mr. Gilbert.)

Cash bonuses were paid under the bonus plan for fiscal 2003 as detailed above in the "Summary Compensation Table" contained in the section entitled "Executive Compensation."

Long-Term Incentives. Our long-term incentive program for executive officers is designed to recognize market effects on senior management compensation, to foster a long-term commitment to us and our subsidiaries, to encourage future performance which contributes to stock price appreciation, and to provide a comprehensive method of compensating executive officers while balancing our costs. An officers' long-term incentive is comprised of 2 parts: stock options and a separate "Cash and Option Opportunity Award."

Stock Options.

In contrast to salary and bonus awards, which generally are for past effort and performance, annual stock options are intended to engender loyalty and commitment to CBRL and to encourage future performance which contributes to stock price appreciation. They are granted at an exercise price which is equal to the closing market price of CBRL common stock on the day before the grant date, and therefore have no realizable value to the option holder until the stock trading price increases. We generally have granted non-qualified stock options annually, and those awards are based on targets and valuations recommended by an independent, outside compensation consultant. For many years, we have extended option grants down into the organization as far as the top hourly employee (PAR IV) positions in our Cracker Barrel stores; however, the Company discontinued this program in fiscal 2003.

Cash and Option Opportunity Award.

The Cash and Option Opportunity Award is comprised of a tandem cash and stock option award. The Cash and Option Opportunity Award is designed to focus specifically on employee retention. It vests at the end of fiscal year 2004, but it may have vested earlier at the end of fiscal year 2003, upon achievement of specified CBRL or specified operating company performance goals. The performance goals for this earlier vesting were achieved at the end of fiscal 2003 by CBRL when CBRL reached its Total Shareholder Return goals for fiscal years 2000-2003. The subsidiary executives were working toward Operating Income Goals to achieve early vesting. All the performance goals were specified by our Board when this program was adopted. The cash portion of the Cash and Option Opportunity Award will not increase over the incentive plan period, but the cash amount will be reduced proportionately if the price of CBRL common stock on the vesting date is less than $10.75 on some options for Mr. Turner and $20.10 on other options for Mr. Turner, and $17.69 for Mr. Gilbert (the stock prices as of the award grant dates).

The vesting cash award for Msrs. Woodhouse, Evins and White was not reduced because the price of CBRL stock on the vesting date exceeded the required price of $13.0625. The stock options originally granted under the Cash and Option Opportunity Award have an exercise price of $13.0625 for Mr. Evins, Mr. Woodhouse, and Mr. White, and $10.75 (and some later options were granted at $20.10) for Mr. Turner, and $17.69 for Mr. Gilbert, and they will expire approximately 6 months after the date they vest. The committee has determined that the options vest on the first trading day, unrestricted by the Company's closed trading window policy, following the meeting of the committee to confirm that vesting has occurred. As a result of the vesting of the CBRL long-term incentive program, a total of 210,922 options vested with the CBRL participants who are named executive officers. These options will expire at March 29, 2004.

How are the limitations on deductibility of compensation handled?

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code limits the deductibility of executive compensation paid by publicly held corporations to $1 million per employee, unless certain requirements are met. CBRL policy is generally to design our compensation plans and programs to ensure full deductibility. This committee attempts to balance this policy with compensation programs designed to motivate management to maximize shareholder value. If this committee determines that the shareholders' interests are best served by the implementation of compensation policies that are affected by Section 162(m), CBRL policies do not restrict this committee from exercising discretion in approving compensation packages even though that flexibility may result in certain non-deductible compensation expenses.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

What is the Audit Committee and what does it do?

The Audit Committee of the Board is responsible for providing independent, objective oversight and review of CBRL's accounting functions and internal controls. The committee recommends to the Board that our audited financial statements be included in our annual report.

Are the members of the committee "independent"?

This committee is comprised of four directors who are independent as determined in accordance with Rule 4200(a)(14) of the National Association of Securities Dealers listing standards. In addition, each audit committee member satisfies the independence criteria described in Section 301 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

Is a member of the committee an "audit committee financial expert"?

The Board has determined that each of Mr. Hilton and the other members of the audit committee satisfy the attributes of an audit committee financial expert, as defined by SEC guidelines.

Has the committee adopted a Charter?

On May 25, 2000, the Board of Directors adopted an Audit Committee Charter to govern this committee, and on September 25, 2003, the Board of Directors approved amendments to that Charter to update it with respect to currently applicable laws and rules. A copy of that amended Charter is included as Appendix A to this Proxy Statement.

What steps did the committee take in recommending that our audited financial statements be included in our annual report?

In connection with recommending that our audited financial statements be included in our annual report, this committee took the following steps:

- Discussed with our auditors their judgment as to the quality, not just the acceptability, of our accounting policies and principles and such other matters as are required to be discussed under generally accepted auditing standards, including information concerning the scope and result of the audit. These communications and discussions are intended to assist this committee in overseeing the financial reporting and disclosure process.
- Discussed with our independent auditors the auditors' independence and received written disclosures from our auditors regarding independence as required under applicable independence standards for auditors of public companies. In addition, this committee considered the compatibility of certain non-audit services with the auditors' independence. This discussion and disclosure informed this committee of the auditors' independence, and assisted this committee in evaluating that independence.

- Reviewed and discussed, with our management and independent auditors, our audited consolidated balance sheets as of August 1, 2003 and August 2, 2002 and the related consolidated statements of operations, shareholders' equity and cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended August 1, 2003, including associated footnotes and Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.
- Reviewed and pre-approved all audit and permissible non-audit services currently planned for fiscal 2004 by our independent auditors.
- Reviewed and discussed CEO and CFO Certifications concerning the Company's Form 10-K.

Based on the discussions with our independent auditors concerning the audit, the independence discussions, the financial statement review, and additional matters deemed relevant and appropriate by this committee, including the internal audit, this committee authorized these audited financial statements to be included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K.

What is the Audit Committee's pre-approval policy and procedure with respect to audit and non-audit services provided by our auditors?

In order to ensure that our independent auditors are engaged only to provide audit and non-audit services that are compatible with maintaining independence as defined by applicable laws and regulations, the Audit Committee requires that all services provided and fees charged by the independent auditors be pre-approved by the Audit Committee. The authority to grant any pre-approval sought by the Audit Committee during the time period between regularly scheduled Audit Committee meetings is delegated to the Chair of the Audit Committee. All of the services described below under the caption "Fees Paid to Auditors" that required pre-approval were pre-approved by the Audit Committee.

(the "Company") may create one or more committees and each committee may consist of one or more members. All members of committees of the Board of Directors which exercise the powers of the Board must be members of the Board, and they serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors.

2. ORGANIZATION.

There shall be a committee of the Board known as the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee shall consist of not less than 3 directors all of whom are "independent." In order to be considered independent, a member of the Audit Committee may not accept any consulting, advisory, or other compensatory fee from the Company, may not be affiliated with the Company or any subsidiary, and must meet the "independence" definition set forth by the stock exchange on which the Company's stock is traded. All members of the Audit Committee shall be able to read and understand fundamental financial statements at the time of their appointment, and at least one member of the Audit Committee shall possess accounting or related financial management experience or professional expertise and shall be designated the "audit committee financial expert," in accordance with Securities and Exchange Commission (17CFR 47;SEC) regulations. The Board shall appoint the Audit Committee members and its Chairperson, on recommendation of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, and the Board shall review the appointments annually. The Audit Committee shall operate in accordance with the Bylaws of the Company.

3. PURPOSE.

3.01 Oversight and Liaison. The Audit Committee shall engage in oversight of the Company's financial reporting and internal controls. The Audit Committee acts as the Board's liaison with the Company's outside auditors in order to assist Board oversight of: (a) the integrity of the Company's financial statements, (b) the Company's compliance with legal and regulatory requirements, (c) the qualifications, independence, and performance of independent accountants, and (d) the performance and direction of the Company's internal audit function. In discharging its responsibilities, the Audit Committee shall have direct access to the Company's financial, legal and other advisors and staff. The Audit Committee shall also maintain open communications among the Board, the Company's independent and internal auditors, and Company management.

3.02 Limited Scope. This Charter is not intended to, and it does not, impose on the Audit Committee any duties other than those required by applicable law and regulations and applicable stock exchange rules. Absent such specific rules, it is not the Audit Committee's role or duty to conduct audits, or to otherwise act in the role of independent auditors.

4. POWERS.

The Audit Committee has the authority to gather any information appropriate in fulfilling its responsibilities, and it has direct access to the independent auditors as well as all Company personnel. The Audit Committee is responsible for the appointment, retention, compensation, evaluation and termination of the Company's independent auditors. The Audit Committee also has the power and authority to engage, as the Audit Committee considers necessary in the performance of its duties, and at the Company's expense, legal counsel or other consultants, experts or advisors to assist the Committee and to conduct independent investigations.

6. AUDIT COMMITTEE RESPONSIBILITIES AND DUTIES.

When appropriate, the Audit Committee will, without limitation to the listed matters, engage in the following activities:

Recommend to the Board of Directors whether or not the audited financial statements should be included in the Company's annual report on Form 10-K.

(3) Require the independent auditors to perform timely reviews of the Company's quarterly financial results prior to the release of earnings, and discuss the Company's annual and quarterly financial statements with management and the independent auditors prior to filing or distribution.

(4) Consider the independent auditors' judgments about the quality and appropriateness of the Company's accounting principles as applied in its financial reporting, and discuss any significant changes to the Company's accounting principles and any items required to be communicated by the independent auditors in accordance with Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61.

(5) Review, through the independent auditors, periodic filings with the SEC; specifically, review Management's Discussion and Analysis before publication in the annual and quarterly reports, and review the Statement of Management's Responsibility for Financial Statements, and the required CEO and CFO certifications, as signed by senior management and included in any published document.

(3) Meet with the independent auditors and financial management of the Company during the planning of each annual audit to review the audit plan and to discuss the scope of the audit, staffing, locations, reliance upon management, and the internal and general audit procedures to be used, and accounting principles and practices to be followed when preparing the Company's financial statements.

(4) Periodically, or when necessary or appropriate, meet with the internal and independent auditors without members of management present. Among the items to be discussed in these meetings are the independent auditors' evaluation of the Company's financial, accounting, and auditing personnel, and the cooperation that the independent auditors received during the course of the audit.

(5) In consultation with the Company's independent auditors and the senior internal audit executive, review and consider the adequacy and effectiveness of the Company's internal accounting and financial controls in order to ensure that these controls are designed to provide reasonable assurance that the Company's publicly reported financial statements are presented fairly and in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Particular emphasis should be given to the adequacy of internal controls to expose any payments, transactions, or procedures that might be deemed illegal or otherwise improper.

(6) Review with the independent auditor any audit problems or difficulties with management's response to those problems or difficulties.

(4) Whenever appropriate, at least annually, review with the Company's legal counsel any inquiries received from regulators or governmental agencies and any legal matters or proceedings that could have a significant impact on the Company's financial statements or its compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

d. Other Duties.
